

PHD OPEN DAY

PHD PROGRAM IN:

MATHEMATICS, COMPUTER SCIENCE AND STATISTICS
UNIVERSITY OF FLORENCE IN CONSORTIUM WITH UNIVERSITY OF PERUGIA

Saturday, April 5, 2025 (starting at 10:30 a.m.)
University of Florence
Didactic Complex of Novoli, D4 building

After an introduction on the PhD structure and organization, some current doctoral students will present their research activities in a dedicated poster session. Following this, PhD graduates and members of the Doctoral Advisory Board will share their experiences with doctoral research and offer suggestions for future research topics. Members of the PhD steering committee attending the event will be available to personally provide further information. The event is intended for current and former master students interested in pursuing doctoral studies at the universities of Florence and Perugia in the areas of mathematics, computer science and statistics. Don't miss this chance to explore your future in research!
